About EPOSEA

EPOSEA at a Glance

The Ethiopian Pulses and Oilseeds Exporters Association (EPOSEA) is a member-based private sector association representing over 500 member companies across Ethiopia's pulses and oilseeds value chains. Established in 1998, EPOSEA works to promote sector growth and competitiveness.

EPOSEA supports sector development by advocating for improved policies, supporting policy reforms, and enhancing members' access to finance and investment opportunities. It also provides reliable local and international market information and strengthens business opportunities through networking and global market linkages.

In addition, EPOSEA provides technical support and capacity building for farmers, SMEs, cooperatives, and other sector stakeholders. With a strong track record, EPOSEA contributes to private sector development and private sector dialogue (PPD), facilitates national and international market linkages, and organizes ICOPOS, alongside ongoing knowledge-sharing and training programs.

EPOSEA is affiliated with key national and international associations, including the Global Pulses Confederation (GPC). Currently, Eposea is leading private sector platform for food system and nutrition transformation in Ethiopia
